The Newest Paragon Exact Image 7.x Released!

Paragon Software Group introduces the most effective and user-friendly solution for complete system and data backup

Buggingen, May 2005

Paragon Software Group (System Utilities Division), the European specialist for innovative data security and data management technology, today announced the release of the newest Paragon Exact Image 7.x, the most convenient disk imaging solution for home users. Empowered by Paragon Engine and qualified with more than 10 years' experience, Paragon Exact Image offers customers an intuitive wizard-driven interface which performs routine backup operations without any setbacks and the necessity to study difficult technical issues.

To make the process of backing up even more easy and reliable, Paragon Exact Image allows to backup any combination of hard disks and partitions with a single operation letting users to continue work on their system as the backup takes place on the background. Moreover, Backup capsule, a unique Exact Image feature provides customers with the most secure place for keeping backup image on their hard drive, preventing accidental deletion or unwanted access to it.

Task Editor builds a schedule of regular backups for users and keeps an eye on their performance without interrupting customer's activity. In the event that it is necessary to restore data, users can choose to restore the entire system or just specific files or folders with Restore wizard.

Paragon Exact Image also includes some very helpful features, such as Image Explorer, made to browse user's backup archives for separate files and folders with possibility to extract them, and Recovery Media builder for creating bootable CDs/DVDs to use when customers are not able to start their operating system in a common way.

"Regular hard drive backup is an essential component of data safety. All computer users should regularly backup their data, system or entire hardware to prevent its loss regardless of reasons" said Jens Strohschneider, Sales Director of Paragon Software Group. "Just follow the way Exact Image's wizards offer and be sure you will achieve the goal that even experienced system administrators are often not able to accomplish. This goal is to keep your computer always protected against any data loss."
